When Care Needs Grow, Families Need Reassurance

When someone you love begins to need support day and night, it can feel like everything changes at once. Families are often faced with difficult decisions, balancing safety, independence and wellbeing, all while trying to do what feels right.

Apollo Care's 24 Hour Live-In Care offers a comforting alternative. With a dedicated carer living in the home, your loved one can continue life in familiar surroundings, with routines, comforts and independence respected. There's always someone there, not just to help with practical needs, but to offer reassurance, notice small changes and provide friendly companionship.

Live-in care brings peace of mind. It creates a calmer, safer environment for the person receiving care, and offers families the reassurance that their loved one is supported, day and night.

Families often find themselves stepping into the role of carer, sometimes without realising just how much it changes the relationship.

Apollo Care's live-in support is designed to lift that weight, allowing family carers to return to simply being daughters, sons, partners and spouses.

Care That Lives Where Life Happens

Live-In Care means having a trusted carer living in your loved one's home, providing consistent, one-to-one support tailored to their needs. With a small, familiar care team and a dedicated Apollo contact, families have someone who truly understands their situation, and is always there to help. Instead of fitting life around care visits and timetables, live-in care supports everyday life as it is.

Exceptional Care Begins with Exceptional People

At Apollo Care, everything starts with our carers. They are carefully chosen not just for their professional training and experience, but for their kindness, patience and genuine compassion for others.

We take time to truly understand each person we support, so we can thoughtfully match them with a Live-In Carer who fits their personality, routines and way of life. When the right match is made, care feels more natural and strong relationships can grow.

Families can feel confident knowing Apollo Care works in line with nationally recognised standards and alongside respected partners.

Why Choose 24 Hour Live-In Care?

Home is more than just a place, it's comfort, memories, routines and identity. Live-In Care allows your loved one to stay in the surroundings they know and love, with consistent, one-to-one support that fits around their life, not the other way around.

With a dedicated carer living in the home, your loved one can maintain daily routines, cherished habits and independence, while also receiving companionship, reassurance and help whenever it's needed, day or night. Families, in turn, gain peace of mind, knowing someone they trust is always there to provide care, notice changes and reduce stress, allowing them to focus on what really matters, sharing moments, laughter and love, rather than managing tasks or worrying about safety.

24 Hour Live-In Care evolves as needs change, providing a stable, comforting presence that keeps both your loved one and your family supported, safe and emotionally reassured.

How is Live-In Care different from a care home?

Unlike residential care, Live-In Care allows you to stay at home, maintain your routines and receive one-to-one support tailored to you. There's no shared staffing or unfamiliar environment, just consistent, personalised care in a place you know and love.

Who is Live-In Care suitable for?

Live-In Care is ideal for older adults, individuals with long-term health conditions, disabilities, mobility challenges or those recovering from illness or surgery. It's also well suited to people who need companionship throughout the day and night.

Can couples receive Live-In Care together?

Yes. Live-in care can be a great option for couples who wish to stay together at home while receiving support. A single Care Professional can often assist both individuals, depending on their needs.

What support does a Live-In Carer provide?

Support can include personal care, medication reminders, meal preparation, mobility assistance, housekeeping, companionship and help attending appointments. Care is tailored to each person's needs and can adapt as those needs change.

Is Live-In Care available 24 hours a day?

Live-in care provides continuous support and reassurance. While carers are entitled to rest breaks, we will always ensure that someone is present in the home and available when needed, with care plans designed to ensure safety and wellbeing at all times.

How much does Live-In Care cost?

The cost of Live-In Care depends on the level and complexity of care required. While it can be an investment, many families find it comparable, or even more cost-effective than residential care, particularly when supporting couples or avoiding care home fees.

Is Live-In Care more affordable than a care home?

In many cases, yes. When you consider the cost of care homes, additional fees and the value of staying at home, Live-In Care can be a practical and financially sensible alternative.

Will I have the same Care Professional consistently?

Apollo Care prioritises consistency wherever possible. We carefully match Care Professionals based on skills, experience and personality, helping to build trust, familiarity and a strong caring relationship.

What if my carer is unwell or on holiday?
